WHEREAS, potato chips have been part of the American scene since 1853, due to the efforts of an Indian Chef named George Crum; and,

WHEREAS, the average American eats nearly five pounds of potato chips each year; and,

WHEREAS, the nation's potato chip manufacturers annually use more than three billion pounds of potatoes and employ thousands of persons in the production and distribution of their nutritious and tasty product; and,

WHEREAS, the industry, through its trade association, Potato Chip Institute International, has worked diligently to improve the quality of its product;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD F. KNEIP, Governor of the State of South Dakota do hereby proclaim the month of October, 1973, as in South Dakota. I urge all South Dakotans to thoughfully consider the significance of this special month in South Dakota.

"POTATO CHIP MONTH"

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Fifth Day of September, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Seventy-three.
